Republican County Convention. This body meets at the Court House at noon to day. Much depends upon its action. There is a general desire in the community for a Poople's Ticket for Opunty Officers. Such a ticket, made up of good men, selected without reference to colitical views, but with sole regard to qualifications and character, would, we are perenided, command a very strong vote, and, in all probability, be successful. Measures should also be taken, by the Convention, to ensure a full and fair vote; and to urge upon the Republicans of the several Assembly Districts the necessity of nominating their best men for the Legislatare.

FORD and L. H. KELLOGG.

Other circumstances point to this as the cause. Barry was pressed on some members of the Convention by Oatholic (good Catholic) on siders, till Gen. Bust had to rebuke them by the exolamation, that he would not vote for Barry inseminates the high delegates in Convention had not united op, or even given him a decent show; a circumstance which shows that Barry was not and is not the choice of the hish citizens, and is only pressed by a few Ligots. Again several of the like lik had been heard to declare before the Convention that it Barry were not comicated Convention that if Barry were not comicated they would bolt the whole ticket; and with this remark a certain pious grader of the Seventh Ward, but who likes fat contracts under the city, clearly enough indicated, long in advance, what

And still again I migh: prove that the same principle was moving generally in said Convention, from the fact that several of the Catholic Colorest and the convention in the fact that several of the Catholic Colorest and the convention and the convention are considered. con, from the fact that several of the Cataolic delegates who were instructed to "clean out" the corruptionists—the Court House Clique—obeyed their last-uctions till they came to be applied to Matthew Koonas, the other good Catholic, but then they forgot them totally, notwithsisading that some of them had voluntarily promised Geo. will be brought before the meeting. Who shall Represent us?

The News addresses this question to the Electors of the First Congressional District, and gives sundry reasons why BERIAH BROWN should be preferred to John F. Potten. These reasons might be well enough, if they did not lack both force and truth. After speaking of Mr. BROWN us "ansullied by the filth of oliques," (BERIAH having always been a prominent, active and in- ran jements for a Mass Convention, to be held fluential member of "the Forty,") the News proceeds to any:

Thoroughly identified as he is with the interests of Wisconsin, he will effect much more for the state, which Mr. Potter could not possibly accomplish were he possessed of equal ability. This congressional district has vital interests at stake, and especially that portion of it bordering upon the lake shore. Mr. Potter, during, his congressional crieer, has almost entirely forgotten these interests in his desire to make himself not rorious as an abolition ractor. His course—blindly rabid and intolerant—prijudiced the minds of the majority of congress against him. minds of the majority of congress against him, and thus rendered him powerless for good, so far as the immediate interests of his constituents

Mr. Potter is at least as "thoroughly identified with the interests of Wisconelo,"as the News claims Republicans will not interfere, but allow our Mr. Brown to be. In point of Legislative ability, he is confessedly Mr. Brown's superior. Mr. Powrer, moreover, has acquired valuable public experience, while Mr. Brown has none. Mr. POITER, instead of "having lorgotten" the intercets of this District, has attended to them sedulonely and faithfully. That he did not accomplish more was not his fault, but that of the Democratic majority who, while lavishing Osk Hus s or Dollars on the Army, Navy, Civil Service, &c., &c., refused to appropriate a single cent for the protection of Western Commerce. Mr. Porren, so far from desiring " to make himself notorious as an applition ranter. scrupulously abstained from any such effort; his course, instead of being "blindly rabid and in tolerent," was liberal, courteous and straightforward; and "the minds of the mejority of Congress" were "prejudiced" most decided in his favor. We have the authority of leading and well-known Democrats of this city, who were at Washing. ton during the last winter, and of the most prom inent Republicans members of the present Congress, for the statement, that Mr. Porrun's course and conduct throughout the session, communded the respect both of fileads and oppocents, and gave him a position and influence ic the House of which any member might well Indeed, any intelligent elector in this District must know that Mr. Pering stands well with his fellow-members of the House of Representatives: and that his Congressional career thus far has been equally creditable to himself and satisfacto ry to his constituents. It would be suicidal policy to exchange so faithful and feerless a Representative, whose every vote and act was in ac cordance with the popular sentiment, and who spared no honorable effort and hesitated at no personal risk, to promote the interests, and maintain the rights of his constituents, and to stand up for Face Speace-it would be worse and inexperienced man. Nor do we believe that the electors of this District will be guilty of any such ingratitude, or commit such a blunder. JOHN F. POTTER, our present Representative, has proved his entire fitness for the post, and his unswerving fidelity to the interests of his constituents and the principles of true Democracy. Let there whom he has served so faithfully and so well, give bim, what he has fairly and honorably earned, the mead of a triumphant re-election.

The News has not yet voucheafed one word in support of the ticket nominated by the Democratic County Convention; nor does it condemn the movement on foot for a "Bolters" Convention. But actions speak louder than words, and the sympathies of the News, it is well understood, are all with the "Bolters," This, after the ear nest exhortation which the News addressed to the Democracy on Wednesday morning "to shide by the decision of the Convention," is of a piece with its customary consistency. Had the News' candidates received the "regular" comination, and Messes. Bade, Dolan, &co, organized a "bolt," the columns of the News would have "traitors" to the Democracy. From the Lowell Vox Populi. A Stave Case in Massachesetts. A case of extraordinary luterest, involving a A case of extraordinary interest, involving as it does some nice points, some new, and some rendered famous in the Dred Scott case, has been pending in this city for several days, but has been kept so still that no daily maper has got hold of it. The case, as stated with apparent truthfulness, and at their own unbiased instance, is briefly this:

Jesse Cornwell, a tich planter in Mississippi, and a swart favority slaves meand. Purses and bada smart favorite slave named Beteey, who was employed in the confidential relation of housekeeper, and with whom he consided.—

The result of this cohabitation was a daughter, The result of this conabitation was a daughter, who is now 24 years old, smart, capable, intelligent and good looking. Her name is Caroline, Cornwell, on his death-bed, six years since, requested his friend, Dr. Lowis Keyes, to take thange of his effects, including a considerable sum of money; and especially charged him, as soon as he could arrange as or out, to take the woman Batsey and his and her child Caroline, to a Free State, and her see them comfortably located. Instead of performing faithfully this last dying request, it is alleged, Keyes, immediately on the death of Oornwell, took the mother and the death of Cornwell, took the mother and daughter and hired them out at $100 a year cach for a period of six years, when he finally brought them with him North, arriving in Low-cil in the latter part of May last. They have been here with Keyes' family, under strict surveillance, since that time.

There are several pice legal points involved in Polificians and the Prople.—The Richmond South, quoting the contract of Walleridge and Bicknee, of New York city, (the latter agrees in writing to transfer the district to the former after occupying it one term.) says:

There is a "lack shead," as if the workshops, foundries, and ship yards were to have a larger representation in the next Courgess than the trading politicians. When the people declare against such men as Glarcy and Owen Jones, Phillips, Groeebeck, Dewart, Leidy and others, who have adhered to party in preference to national interests, and bartered the good of their constituents for personal or partiesn advancement, we may hope that a movement has been made in the right direction toward breaking up that combination which has basely betrayed the country on all vital questions affecting its industry and humbers. The plow, loom and anyll are to have a voice in the capital to the exclusion of mule contracts, swindling purchases of military sites, and reckless appropriations of public lands in payment of profligate party services.—Louisville Journal.

MATRIMONIAL EPIDEMIC IN PHILADELPHIA.-The Philadelphia Evening Journal says:

"The commissal fever is apidemic, and its ravages are very extensive and startling. The victims of undue exposure to moonlight, and over-indulgence in music, murmurs, and the waltz, may be counted by scores. The skill of experienced parontal practitioners, has, in all these cases, proved unavailing, and, in several instances, only served to hasten the sad catastrophe. The truth is mighty and prevails, notwithstanding the inability of the teatable and from window isculty to account for it, that all the young people are going off in this way." At Perote, I repeat, all who had been my companions from Vera Cruz took leave of me — this being the end of their journey in that direction, but there was one new passenger here to go forward, whom, to my agreeable surprise, I tound to be a beautiful young lady, some twonty found to be a beautiful young lady, some twenty years of sge.

Senorita Paula, as I subsequently ascertained ber name to be, was indeed one of those rare beauties, seldom met with except in works of fiction—tall, graceful, with a profusion of long. black hair—soft, clear, included dark eye—features as perfect as ever came from the hands of the soulptor, and with an animation the most fascinating varying in expression with everchanging, varying in expression with ever-changing mood of the intelligent possessor. A glanee at her bewitching dark eyes showed me that she was one who was naturally of social disposition; and as we rattled away from the gloomy town. I took the liberty of opening a conversation.

"I have observed them frequently, but here they seem to be much more numerous," I replied, looking forth from the vehicle.

"Each stands on the spot wheresome one has mot a violent death," abo rejoined; "and as we go along, I will call your attention to those which mark the places where the foreigners met theirs."

"Do you know," said I, that I am resolved to emulate their examble, let the consequences be emulate their example, les that consequences what they may?"
"Holy saints defend us!" she exclaimed; "you are not in earnest, Senor?"
"Seriously so, I assure you."
"You would only bring certain death upon us."

"But there were numbers opposed to them, Senor, and you are only one."

"But fortunately I have a couple of revolvers, which, in two good hands, amount to some ten or a dozen shots, and my friends have repeatedly told me I am not a bad merkeman."

"Ab! Santa Maria! you will think better of this Senor—the very idea of resistance terrifies me?"

for any little change and valuables you might have to spare."

There seemed to be no help for it—the beautiful Scaorita Paula Valerde was a spy and accomplice of the ladrones. She had entered the diligencia at Perote for no other purpose than to ascertain the exact condition of things inside, and be able to signalize her associates as she passed along, so that they might know exactly in what manner to conduct themselves and make their work sure without risk. By a simple attraction was a bad obtained my arma, just at ple stratagem she had obtained my arms, just at the point where she knew the attack would be made; and her discharge of the pistel, as if by accident, was the sign to show them that all was treatment, and of course I trust to the saints that my fortune will ever be as propitious."

"And have you really been robbed on your journey back and forth?" I inquired.

"I think I have paid my share to the ladrones for my transit through their country!" she laughed.

"And you expect to continue a repetition of the same for the rest of your life?"

"Who knowe?" she replied. "At least I hope to be always prepared."

"And your follow-travelers," said I, "have you never seen any disposed to resist these unlawful acts?"

I reached the box toward her, but my hand trembled a little, and just as the present was about to touch her fingers, it slipped and fell between us.

"A thousand pardons, Sanorits, for awkwardness!" I said as I bent down to pick it up.

Now was the all-important moment—the moment of life and death! All were in a measure off their guard, and one quick, furtive glance schowed me that the girl still held my weapons carelessly in one hand, with the other remaining extended for the prize. I lifted the box carefally; but as I raised myself, I gave a wild, tart ling yell; and as the Senorita started back, I with the quickness of lightning, seized both weapons, and wranched them from her.

To wheel and commence firing upon the party, was now only the work of a moment. The first shot, fortunately, atreached out the chief; and the second took effect on the one nearest to him; and by the time the third had been sent on his mission, there arcse one simultaneous roll of dismay, and the astonished robbers began to exatter in every direction. I had no disposition to follow them, however; another minute they might rally and turn upon me; and springing forward, I greaped the reise of a freed mustacy, and vaulted into the saddle. One more glance around me showed me the Senorita Paula upon the body of the chief, her laughter changed to grief, and some of the scattered cowards bringing their weapons to bear upon me.

"Action Senorita, and Senores!" said I bitterly; "the laughe best who laught last!"

The next mement I was dashing away down the road, and the half railied robbers pouring after me a voiley, but fortunately not touching their mark. They would doubless have followed me in hot pursuit, but for the wholesome dread they had of my still undischarged weapon. As it was I estaped, and entered the town of Puebla in triumph; where, it is almost needless to add, a narrative of my exploit made me a here and a lion for the time. Here I sold my captured mustang and trappings for enough to indemnify me for what I had disposed of in

COMMERCIAL & FINANCIAL

OFFICE OF THE DAILY SENTINEL, I Friday Evening, Oct. 22, 1858. Friday Evening, Oct. 27, 1859. §

MONEY MAYERS.—There is no change whatever in the money market. There is only a modera'e demand for currency, comparatively, and the market is well supplied. No difficulty is experienced in discounting first-class business paper at the music rate, 10 per contum.— Cusside rates range from 1% to S per cent per month; outside rates range from 1% to S per cent per month; according to time and character of collaterals. Exchange and gold are selling and buying at former prices, namely; Exchange is firm at former prices, as below:

All the more activity was observable in the market today, though the ruiting prices of wheat are a little lowerif anything. Receipts are light and sales correspondingif small. The range for extra spring wheat to day is 75 to 85c, the principal transactions being at the lower
samples alone will bring the cuttide figures. Flour rather lower, and it is difficult to obtain over $1 for the pest brands of spring wheat floor. Oats are rather scarce and firmer, while barley, sye and corn are duly
